In Your Corner is the best safe person for a person and a person can express his feeling, make more friends, and share his feelings with other people. It's basically a community but when I come here, I feel like it's my home and I feel safe.

Young Person

School have said he's calmer and more focused. He is getting positive behaviour points and not negative. Teachers have said to me he's making better choices.

Foster Carer

He has shown he can control and regulate his temper, able to think before reacting, gets angry but can calm himself down...He has more trust (and) is more confident since his involvement.

Referrer

I feel like I am calmer. Feelings have got better, like I'm not that sensitive anymore and before I was sensitive to anything. Before I couldn't focus much and I was distracted and now I can focus easier.
